Profile

I'm a passionate and adaptable web developer who enjoys creating responsive, user-friendly websites and turning ideas into functional digital experiences. I have experience working with WordPress (Elementor), HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and modern web technologies, with a strong focus on building clean, visually appealing, and easy-to-use interfaces. My background in IT support and network troubleshooting also helps me approach projects with a practical problem-solving mindset. I'm always eager to learn new tools, improve my skills, and contribute to projects that deliver real value to users and clients.
